

AUGUST 2019

STUDIO CHANGES

During August we will be making major changes to the studio layout and this will affect which parts of the studio are open.

There will be disruption to the studio during the month as stores are emptied, cupboards cleared and partition walls moved. Please bear this in mind and do not start large or delicate projects this month.

Staff will be very busy making these changes and will not be able to provide artistic support as they normally do.

There will be no computers available during August due to these changes.

1st—16th August

Between 1st and 16th of August, there will be no use of Studio 1 (currently known as the 'quiet studio') while we prepare the new layout.

19th—31st August

From the 19th—31st August, there will be no use of Studios 2 ('social') and 3 (workshops) while we make changes.

There will be no workshops or groups running in the studio, with no access to damp cupboards or potters wheels and no kiln firings. The only space available to work in will be Studio 1, and there will be a limited range of materials available to work with.

Things will return to normal, with our new layout in place, from the 2nd of September.
